Join us for a workshop on Age Inclusive Hiring

Hiring managers, interviewers, and others involved in the effort to build high-performing teams recognize that a variety of viewpoints and experiences makes teams perform better. That's why learning how to recruit and hire employees across the age spectrum is key to your own professional growth- and to your team's success.

This 1-hour workshop is designed for all employees involved in talent acquisition efforts across the organization. It translates research-backed best practices into hands-on activities for all members of a hiring team to play with during the workshop. You can then apply these new skills in your daily work when recruiting and hiring new employees. You'll leave with AARP's Say This, Not That: Manager's Guide to Age-Inclusive Hiring resource, which includes a full hiring kit you can easily customize to use for your next hire.
